Managing the state through a recession

Through three years of recession, we've cut $10 billion in public services. This year, we'll need to cut another $2.2 billion..

This chart shows where we've cut so far.

When I'm out in the community speaking with neighbors, I often get asked, "What can be done to save tax dollars?"

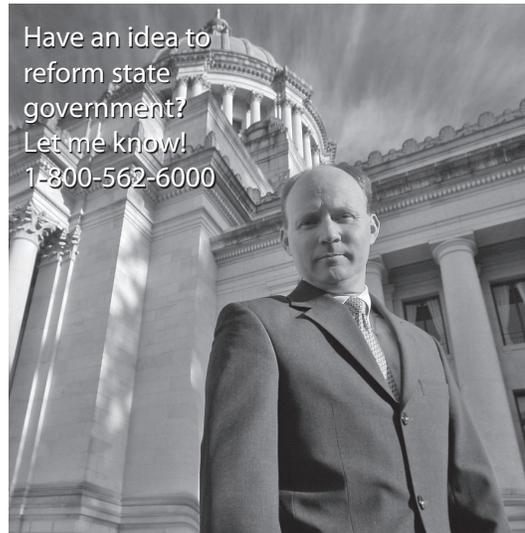

As your representative, and as Chair of the House General Government Appropriations & Oversight committee, I'm determined to scrub every state agency's budget that comes to my committee. See how I do so by using this code with your smartphone:
