1	Re: SB 5909: I feel torn. I feel that Governor Inslee has used the best knowledge we have had available to drive decisions made with emergency proclamations. I would be concerned that in this political climate those who value politics over science would want to check the governor's powers in a way that is harmful to our communities. However, if we were to ever have a governor whose decisions and motives I didn't trust, I would want there to be a legislative check.	2/1/2022 8:38 PM
2	There should be term limits. Lower the gas and property taxes. Seniors shouldn't have to pay the school portion of property taxes. As far as higher education is concerned, in order to get a discount you should have to have a 3.5 GPA. If you drop out, pay it back. This state is a hot mess. Good luck.	1/31/2022 2:00 PM

If it passes, then he should go after Representative Jayapal based on her comments regarding the 2016 election. Last I knew in our country, we have freedom of speech.	1/30/2022 9:04 PM

7	I strongly support SB5623 to protect consumers from having credit histories used to determine their insurance rates. I do not use credit cards or pay attention to credit scores, as I do not feel citizens have enough ability to correct bad information. I especially appreciate the restriction from using medical billing information in that bill. Thanks for sending this survey.	1/27/2022 9:31 AM
8	SB 5909 has only D sponsors, does not appear to be non partisan. I am nervous after I read all of the new sections for the new committee, the very last line says that the committees actions are not binding on the governor. Lets be honest, do you think that either of the two leaders representing the party in power would vote against their governor? This bill appears like it is a show of face that does not mean anything. This should be a non partisan bill if there ever was one. Please stand up for the citizens and my family by supporting HB 1720. It is crucial or we will have further divide. We need unity not division. To me there is no difference between racism and vaccinism (is that a word LOL). Both are forms of bias that should not be a part of our society. Thanks for the opportunity to have input. I want you to know that I voted for you. Keep working hard	1/27/2022 9:09 AM
9	The Washington Cares Act is an unfair burden put on everyone - once again the responsible citizens are taxed to provide for the irresponsible ones. Was the Washington Cares Act brought on by the PAC insurance companies - they are the ones that are the real benefactors!	1/27/2022 8:51 AM
10	Don't back a state income tax You will be voted out of office	1/27/2022 7:02 AM
11	Please pass the electric vehicle credit	1/27/2022 6:36 AM
12	Emergency powers shouldn't last more than two weeks without legislative approval. Right now we have a dictator for a governor and this power needs to stop. Lock up everyone who commits a violent crime; no diversion plans for anyone who commits violent crimes including bringing weapons to school. Crime must be controlled.	1/27/2022 12:18 AM
13	A 3-day sales tax holiday would overwhelm malls/stores and create chaos. If you want to create a back-to-school sales tax holiday, make it a few weeks rather than 3 days in order to even out the flow of shoppers and reduce stress on the system. Insurers should be able to give discounts to those with good credit histories.	1/26/2022 8:44 PM

15	Lose those "gun control" bills. None of them were written by anyone who knows anything about guns. They will be bad laws, and will make law abiding citizens into victims of the criminal and of the state.	1/26/2022 1:37 PM
16	I do not think the state should be involved with additional long term care. Give people incentives to get private insurance that suit their needs. As far as I know, the State of Washington, does not have a law to require headlights on when it is raining. I have heard California has a law. I feel we should have a law in Washington which requires headlights on when it is raining. It is a safety issue.	1/26/2022 1:14 PM

22	Over the past 2 years, Inslee has enacted at least 5 or 6 advisory bills into law, all tax increases including an outright unconstitutional income tax, despite being rejected by the voters. Surveys like this are a waste of time since our votes won't matter. In a recent rant against republicans, Biden said "The facts won't matter. Your votes won't matter. They will just decide what they want and then do it. That's the kind of power you see in totalitarian states, not in democracies." Well, welcome to Inslee's autocracy. Where is Waldo anyway? Rampant inflation, crime, business shutdowns, Covid deaths, government departments being defrauded of billions of dollars.... Waldo is nowhere to be found. No one cares about his salmon recovery or green initiatives he thinks is so important. Waldo is so out of touch. Impeach the SOB.	1/26/2022 11:27 AM
23	I think you should sponsor a bill that would eliminate all the taxes collected after the voters rejected bills passed by the legislature and were implemented anyway regardless of the voters rejection. Ignoring the voters doesn't seem to be a great plus for democracy.	1/26/2022 10:48 AM
24	I Strongly oppose WA cares. I am retiring in one year and cannot possibly benefit.	1/26/2022 10:43 AM

27	It's time to scrap the WA Cares Fund. There was an advisory vote where Washingtonians voted against state invoked LTC and yet you've ignored it. I've been forced to go out and get private LTC insurance which I don't need as I have diligently saved my money over the years. But, I'm certainly not letting the state determine or change my payroll deduction. It's a sneaky income tax that has irked a lot of Washingtonians that I've talked to.	1/26/2022 10:12 AM

30	RE HB1720 - Mandatory vaccinations are unconstitutional and violate the Nuremburg Code. RE HB1732 - Requiring this tax is also unconstitutional and is an over-reach of governmental authority.	1/26/2022 9:52 AM taxes in one area will ultimately rebound on property owners. My house taxes are becoming so burdensome I can barely make my payments monthly. SALES tax spreads the burden across EVERYONE. Health care workers and seniors are at risk by eliminating vaccine requirements. If the state actually ENFORCED mask requirements, then I wouldn't feel so strong about the need for vaccines. I live in Enumclaw - a city where businesses ignore the vaccine requirement and citizens ignore the mask requirements. When did we become a society where everyone just does what they want? Like...I can decide I want to drive 50 mph in a school zone so I just do it? And I should be able to do it without worrying about the consequences to others? That's what opening the door on eliminating vaccine/mask requirements is - people being selfish and not thinking of the community at large.
